RG 379: Arlington Coalition on Transportation (ACT) Records, 1958-2001 (10 records)

The Arlington Coalition on Transportation (ACT) was formed by citizens of Arlington County and led by James and Emilia Govan in order to hold the Virginia Department of Highways accountable while constructing I-66. The collection features many documents created by the organization while active, and some of the items digitized include sketches of what could be instead of an interstate, drawn by Rudy Wendelin, the creator of Smokey the Bear.
